Southport's Vincent Hotel Restaurant Awarded Second AA Rosette

The Vincent Hotel's V-Cafe and Sushi Bar in Southport has recently been awarded its second AA rosette.

The contemporary restaurant is situated on the town's fashionable Lord Street and enjoys a well earned reputation for high quality cuisine. It serves a range of homemade dishes as well as many Japanese specialities including Sushi, Miso Soup and freshly cut Sashi, prepared by the restaurant's Sushi Chef, Wichien Puttha, under the guidance of Head Chef Andrew Carter.

On the achievement, Alan Richmond, Hotel General Manager at The Vincent Hotel comments; "To receive our second rosette for culinary excellence is of course a fantastic achievement for the team. They work tirelessly to deliver outstanding food and service and this highly prestigious award recognises their dedication and commitment towards being the best in all that they do."

As a popular venue for conferences and meetings, the restaurant's additional recognition from the AA is expected to further add to its draw, and that of the wider resort to its visitors.

Mike Booth, Sefton Council Cabinet Member for Leisure, Culture and Tourism, explains; "Combined with the extensive conference and accommodation facilities that Southport has to offer, high quality dining and other entertainment facilities really aid in attracting delegates to the town and enhance the welcome programme that we provide."

The Vincent Hotel has also recently pledged its support for the ABPCO Conference Cloud campaign along with the other members of Southport Conferences, calling for the wide spread provision of free wi-fi to delegates.
